

Science First Peoples & JUMP Math Superworkshop Details

Date: March 2, 2017

Time: 8:30-3:00

Location: SBO Boardroom

Schedule:

8:30-9:00 Snacks/Refreshments

9:00-9:30 Science First Peoples (Joe Heslip)

9:30-10:30 Great Bear Sea (Sarah Lockman & Jennifer Buffet)

10:30-10:45 Stretch Break

10:45-11:30 Guided Collaboration Time

11:30-12:15 LUNCH

12:15-1:45 JUMP Math (Rebekaah Stenner)

Background Information:

Science First Peoples (FNEESC): Released in November, you can access this guide digitally for free. In addition, our school district has purchased print copies for every school and they will be in libraries by spring!

Local Workshop: Joe Heslip, District Principal of Aboriginal Education, is offering a workshop to introduce the resource and strategies for using this with students. This highly adaptable guide can be used with students K-12. Every teacher who attends this session will be given a copy of Science First Peoples.

Great Bear Sea: Every school library has a copy of the print and digital files of the Great Bear Sea Science resource for their school community. The digital files include the full length feature film and are also available on the Great Bear Sea website.

Local Workshop: A workshop by the curriculum developers, Sarah Lockman and Jennifer Buffet (FNEESC 2016 presenters), will be offered in conjunction with Joe Heslip's Science First Peoples workshop. Guided Collaboration time will be available for unit and inquiry planning.

JUMP Math:

The school district will provide teacher resource guides and training to all K-6 teachers in September 2017. The district will also purchase JUMP Math classroom resources for all K-6 classrooms, starting in September 2017.

Local Workshop: Rebekah Stenner, JUMP Math Educational Consultant, will offer a half day workshop to introduce teachers who want an introduction to JUMP Math earlier than September and who may want to pilot the resource. Every teacher who attends will be given JUMP Math teaching resources at the session.

Box Office Registration Opens Friday, January 27th at 3:30pm
email: jennifer.lane@mpsd.ca for tickets!